The best value is obtained when purchasing a program (multiple sessions) rather than single sessions. Please choose what works best for you. I am also open to discussing this, so that you find the best solution for your personal needs. Coaching is not covered by insurance but I am sometimes able to work out a pricing plan that is customized just for you, and that you can afford, when you are willing to commit to a program of more than a month. Remember that coaching is a process of self-discovery, commitment and work, and is not a quick fix.

Curiosity Session: Free-Available to prospective clients who want to learn more about coaching and to see if we are a good fit to work together-Approximately 30 minutes-Email or go to web site to make an appointment!

Intensive Stand-Alone Session-90 minutes-$200

Clarity, Brainstorming, Plans and Birth of Solutions- Not to make complex, long term changes but a very good value for someone who wants to get started.

Follow-up by email plus 15 minute or so check in call a couple of weeks after session.

Booster Shot for Former Clients- $100-A great deal!! When you need a little “vitamin charge” to get back on track, to be energized, to clarify, to get a little support-one session.

This is for clients who have worked with me in the past, but have not been clients for six months to twelve months. These rates do not apply beyond that time.**

Concierge-level email and text support with the following programs.

Monthly Program: (4) 60-90 minute long sessions - $500 paid in advance of sessions --You pay for one month at a time, in advance of your four sessions, but coaching is a process and many people will want a minimum of three (or more) months to make significant changes.

Six-Week Program: (6) 60-90 minute long sessions-$700

Three-Month (12 week) Program: $1200

Coaching Package to Tackle a Specific Project or Large Goal-We will design what you need together. .Specialized pricing/fee reductions are usually not able to be considered when client is referred by a registry or service that charges a fee to coaches.

Group sessions are offered periodically and are a cost-effective avenue for some clients.
